Introduction

At Crockerton C of E Primary School we recognize that the personal development of pupils, spiritually, morally, socially and culturally, plays a significant part in their ability to learn and achieve. We therefore aim to deliver an education that provides pupils with opportunities to explore and develop their own values and beliefs. This can include spiritual awareness, high standards of personal behaviour, a positive caring attitude towards other people, an understanding of their social and cultural traditions and an appreciation of the diversity and richness of other cultures.

At the heart of the SMSC programme are the School Rules - Be Safe Be Kind Be Responsible as well as the Five School Values: Friendship, Compassion, Perseverance, Respect and Trust alongside the teaching of the British Values and the School Games Values.

Rationale

- 1. All curriculum areas have a contribution to make to the child's spiritual, moral, social and cultural development.
- 2. All adults should model and promote expected behaviour, treating all people as unique and valuable individuals and showing respect for pupils and their families.
- 3. The school community is a place where pupils can find acceptance for themselves as unique individuals, and where forgiveness and the opportunity to start again is fundamental to the ethos of the school.
- 4. Pupils learn to differentiate between right and wrong in as far as their actions affect other people.
- 5. Pupils are encouraged to value themselves and others.
- 6. Pupils understand the need for rules and the need to abide by rules for the good of everyone.
- 7. School values and classroom rules reflect, reiterate, promote and reward good behaviour and provide opportunities to celebrate pupils' work and achievements.
- 8. All curriculum areas seek to use illustrations and examples drawn from as wide a range of cultural contexts as possible.

Aims

- To ensure that everyone connected with the school is aware of our vision and school values.
- To ensure a consistent approach to the delivery of spiritual, moral, social and cultural (SMSC) issues through the curriculum and the general life of the school.
- To ensure that a pupil's education is set within a context that is meaningful and appropriate to their age, aptitude and background.
- To give each pupil a range of opportunities to reflect upon and discuss their beliefs, feelings and responses to personal experience.
- To enable pupils to develop an understanding of their individual and group identity.
- To enable pupils to begin an understanding of their social and cultural environment, and an appreciation of the many cultures that now enrich our society
- To give each pupil the opportunity to explore social and moral issues, and develop a sense of social and moral responsibility.
- To promote positive and effective links with the local community

Teaching and Organisation

Development in SMSC will take place across all curriculum areas, within activities that encourage pupils to recognise the spiritual dimension of their learning, reflect on the significance of what they are learning, and to recognise any challenges that there may be to their own attitude and lifestyle. All curriculum areas should seek illustrations and examples drawn from as wide a range of cultural contexts as possible.

Class discussions and circle time will give pupils opportunities to:

- Talk about personal experiences and feelings.
- Express and clarify their own ideas and beliefs.
- Speak about difficult events, e.g. bullying, death etc.
- Share thoughts and feelings with other people.
- Explore relationships with friends/family/others.
- Consider others' needs and behaviour.
- Show empathy.
- Develop self-esteem and a respect for others.
- Develop a sense of belonging.
- Develop the skills and attitudes that enable pupils to develop socially, morally, spiritually and culturally, e.g. empathy, respect, open mindedness, sensitivity, critical awareness etc.

Many curriculum areas provide opportunities to:

- Listen and talk to each other.
- Learn an awareness of treating all as equals, and accepting people who are physically or mentally different.
- Agree and disagree.
- Take turns and share equipment.
- Work co-operatively and collaboratively.

Please look at the attached SMSC maps that show examples of how we provide for all round development. Teachers also complete grids that show how we provide for spiritual development in the areas of self, others, beyond and the world and beauty.

Links with the Wider Community

- Visitors are welcomed into school.
- Links with the church are fostered through links with the local church and the Diocesan Board of Education.
- The development of a strong home/school link is regarded as very important, enabling parents and teachers to work in an effective partnership to support the pupil.
- Pupils will be taught to appreciate their local environment and to develop a sense of responsibility to it.

Defining spiritual, moral, social and cultural development

The spiritual development of pupils is shown by their:

- ability to be reflective about their own beliefs, religious or otherwise, that inform their perspective on life and their interest in and respect for different people's faiths, feelings and values
- sense of enjoyment and fascination in learning about themselves, others and the world around them
- ability to connect with their beliefs and the world around them.
- willingness to reflect on their experiences.

The moral development of pupils is shown by their:

- ability to recognise the difference between right and wrong, readily apply this understanding in their own lives and, in so doing, respect the civil and criminal law of England
- understanding of the consequences of their behaviour and actions
- interest in investigating and offering reasoned views about moral and ethical issues, and being able to understand and appreciate the viewpoints of others on these issues.

The social development of pupils is shown by their:

- use of a range of social skills in different contexts, including working and socialising with pupils from different religious, ethnic and socio-economic backgrounds
- willingness to participate in a variety of communities and social settings, including by volunteering, cooperating well with others and being able to resolve conflicts effectively
- acceptance and engagement with the fundamental British values of democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs; the pupils develop and demonstrate skills and attitudes that will allow them to participate fully in and contribute positively to life in modern Britain.

The cultural development of pupils is shown by their:

- understanding and appreciation of the wide range of cultural influences that have shaped their own heritage and that of others
- understanding and appreciation of the range of different cultures within school and further afield as an essential element of their preparation for life in modern Britain
- ability to think critically about information and ideas
- opportunities to participate in democratic processes within school, such as school councillors, voting for school values, leading clubs and voting about school issues, like the school values
- knowledge of Britain's democratic parliamentary system and its central role in shaping our history and values, and in continuing to develop Britain
- willingness to participate in and respond positively to artistic, sporting and cultural opportunities
- interest in exploring, improving understanding of and showing respect for different faiths and cultural diversity, and the extent to which they understand, accept, respect and celebrate diversity as shown by their tolerance and attitudes towards different religious, ethnic and socioeconomic groups in the local, national and global communities.
